TOP THAT – DOMINO'S UK CROWNED FASTEST PIZZA MAKERS IN EUROPE, MIDDLE EAST AND AFRICA

Three Domino's pizza makers from Bristol, London and Leicester have beaten off stiff competition from across the globe to scoop the title of Domino's Fastest Pizza Makers in Europe, Middle East and Africa (EMEA).

The two-day competition, which took place in Amsterdam this week, saw Vijay Chauhan from Bristol, Pali Grewal from London and Prem Singh from Leicester competing against Domino's pizza makers from all over EMEA in a bid to clinch the title. Each country has been holding their own heats with the fastest eight going through to the EMEA finals.

To take part, each pizza maker had to make three large pizzas from scratch – stretching the dough, saucing and cheesing them and then adding toppings of pepperoni and mushrooms. All the pizzas had to be made to standard in as fast a time as possible. Pali scored a blisteringly quick time of 50 seconds, closely followed by Vijay with 53 seconds and Prem with 63 seconds.

Pali and Vijay will now compete against the 12 fastest pizza makers chosen from 9,000 Domino's stores across the globe in the world final taking place in Las Vegas in July.

Pali Grewal said: "We've been practising hard for the competition and for us to scoop the EMEA title is a fantastic achievement. Vijay and I can't wait to get to Vegas. The world final is going to be a great event and we're leaving a space in our suitcases so we can bring back the trophy!"
