Domino's Pizza, the UK and Ireland's leading pizza delivery company, is today launching a recruitment drive to identify 2000 new full and part-time team members to work in its 400+ stores across the UK.

The new jobs have been created to help the stores handle what is typically the busiest time of year as Director of Operations, Patricia Thomas, explains: "Many people choose to enjoy Domino's Pizza during this season of celebrations. Our customers have come to expect a very high level of service and to deliver on this expectation; Domino's stores are gearing up with the creation of new jobs which come at a time when many people are looking to earn spare cash."

"A job at Domino's during this festive season is an ideal opportunity for those looking for a second income to pay off any extra spending during the Christmas period, or for students looking for a part-time position to support their studies. A job at Domino's can offer the money, the fun and also the chance of a longer-term opportunity."

Patricia continues, "Many of our very successful team members started working at Domino's on a part-time basis and some have gone on to become franchisees of their own stores. There is huge scope for progression, which is one of the biggest advantages of working for a market leader. A job at Domino's offers significant flexibility and our franchisees offer great pay and rewards. Domino's stores are a fun, high energy places to work with diverse teams of all ages and backgrounds."
